We are a group of two. Natoli Lemma worked on the backend of the serverless e-commerce platform using Node.js, integrating AWS services. Yohannes Haile was responsible for building the frontend of the application using React, integrating AWS services.